Ben LAW

SHINGLES COVER FULL LENGTH OF RAFTERS
CABIN

BEN LAW has always had a passion for healthy, biodiverse farms and woodlands. Having gained an Advanced National Certificate in Agriculture, Ben became a shepherd and set up a conservation landscaping business. Woodlands were a natural progression and, after seeking out a few experienced coppice workers, he began work in the woods and in associated coppice crafts. Ben's appearance on Channel 4's Grand Designs is the most watched in the series' history and is the host's and public's favourite episode. Ben has also appeared on the BBC's Countryfile. Ben was a founding member of the Forest Stewardship Council and has been training apprentices and running courses on sustainable woodland management, eco-building and permaculture design. He runs a specialist eco-building company, The Roundwood Timber Framing Company Limited.

THE WOODLAND WAY

A Permaculture Approach to Sustainable Woodland

Revised & Updated

This completely revised and updated edition of Ben Law's 2001 classic presents a range of practical and tested alternatives to conventional woodland management. Based on years of experience, Ben clearly demonstrates how to create biodiverse, healthy environments that create secure livelihoods and yield a great variety of value added products. He also argues the case for a new approach to planning, encouraging the creation of permaculture woodlands for the benefit of the community, the local environment and the global climate.

What is PERM

PERMACULTURE is an intelligent toolkit for creating low carbon, sustainable ways of living. It is based on the principles found in nature's ecosystems and can therefore be used by anyone, anywhere: in our households, gardens, communities and businesses.

By caring for the earth and its people, and by thinking carefully about the way we use our resources

PERMACULTURE IN POTS

How to Grow Food in Small Urban Spaces

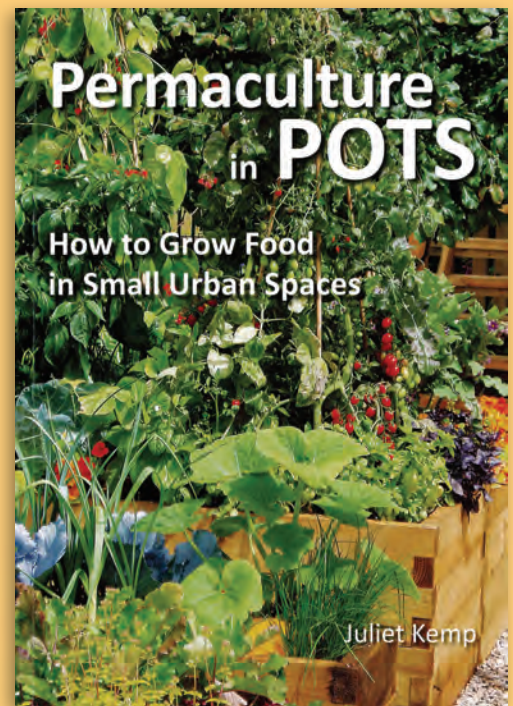

JULIET KEMP

In these times of soaring food prices, growing food in cities is becoming the big urban trend. As demand far outstrips supply for allotments, Permaculture in Pots shows you how to get started with whatever space you have available – appealing to those who feel powerless to meet their own subsistence needs through lack of growing space. Permaculture in Pots gives power and opportunity back to generations who are becoming more aware of the need of self-sufficiency, and yet find themselves in rented home with concrete where gardens once were. There's no excuse not to get started!

Revised & Updated

Already hailed in the UK, Europe and America as definitive, and reprinted by popular demand, The Earth Care Manual offers an inspirational yet practical vision of a sustainable future invaluable to those new to the subject as well as to the experienced practitioner. Written by Patrick Whitefield, one of Europe's foremost teachers and practitioners of temperate permaculture, it explains in depth how to apply permaculture to any situation, from the smallest of buildings or apartments, to houses, gardens, orchards, farms and woodlands.

MARK BOYLE, FOREWORD BY CHARLES EISENSTEIN

In direct response to the interest and questions raised by readers of The Moneyless Man, in which Mark Boyle tells of his first year of operating completely without spending, earning, saving or using money, The Moneyless Manifesto delves deeper in to the culture of modern economics, and provides a how-to on the logistics of going moneyless, or at least reducing dependency on money. What is PERMA

PERMACULTURE is an intelligent toolkit for creating low carbon, sustainable ways of living. It is based on the principles found in nature's ecosystems and can therefore be used by anyone, anywhere: in our households, gardens, communities and businesses.

By caring for the earth and its people, and by thinking carefully about the way we use our resources

PERMACULTURE IN POTS

How to Grow Food in Small Urban Spaces

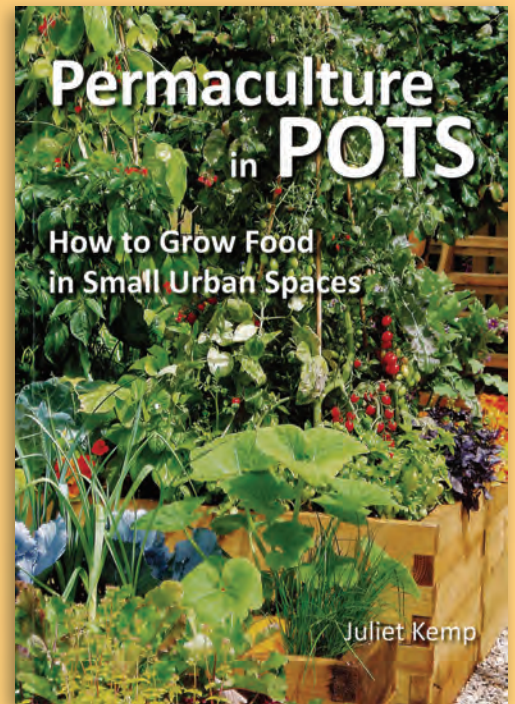

JULIET KEMP

In these times of soaring food prices, growing food in cities is becoming the big urban trend. As demand far outstrips supply for allotments, Permaculture in Pots shows you how to get started with whatever space you have available – appealing to those who feel powerless to meet their own subsistence needs through lack of growing space. Permaculture in Pots gives power and opportunity back to generations who are becoming more aware of the need of self-sufficiency, and yet find themselves in rented home with concrete where gardens once were. There's no excuse not to get started!
